BOOTH TARKINGTON'S New Serial Begins

THIS new novel, "The Turnout," is a love story, so virile and yet so delicately idyllic that it is difficult to convey more than a suggestion of its great beauty and charm. It is unquestionably Mr. Tarkington's greatest work, an American story of the present day with a heroine who will at once rank with the most charming women of all fiction.

Rash Over Baby's Head and Body

Scurf on Scalp. Grew Worse. Very Restless. Formed Crust. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Trouble Disappeared.

1241 Pickwood Pl. N.W., Washington, D. C.—"When my baby was about two weeks old I noticed a scurf on her scalp which gradually grew worse. It started with a fine rash over head and body and made her very restless at night. The rash left the thick scurf on her head, and used Cuticura, a well known antiseptic, and other remedies recommended by friends, but nothing seemed to do any good. This continued until she was three months old, and by that time it formed sort of a crust, so that her scalp never looked clean. It was especially bad on the soft part of the head. Nothing helped until we used the Cuticura Soap to bathe her and Cuticura Ointment to anoint her. They acted like magic, clearing the scalp entirely. The trouble disappeared." (Signed Mrs. H. L. Anderson, Mar. 29, 1914.)

Samples Free By Mail

NO LEGAL ORDER, IS PLEA IN COURT

Public Service Corporations Would Enjoin District of Columbia Utilities Board.

SAY JOINT POWER PLANT IS BENEFIT TO PEOPLE

Insist Consolidation to Manufacture Electricity Has Authorization of Congress.

Declaring that the letter of the public utilities commission directing them to desist from the joint manufacture of electricity and ordering monthly statements after the separation of the business of the companies was not an order because it had no form number and was not written on an order form, the Potomac Electric Power Company and the Washington Railway and Electric Company have filed suit for injunction against the utilities commission, the Commissioners of the District of Columbia and the municipality of the District of Columbia.

The court is asked to restrain the further prosecution of the suit for $2,000 brought recently by the public utilities commission against the two companies and to prevent the threatened suits to recover penalties of $20 daily for alleged violation of the order of the commission.

Not Regarded as Binding. Attorneys J. J. Darlington and W. G. Johnson for the companies contend that the letter is not such an order as is contemplated by the law and was not regarded by the companies as a binding command of the commission. Should the court find it was an order, the lawyers say the companies were not given time to appeal to the court as provided by law before the suit to recover the penalties of $200 was instituted. They maintain the commission is without authority to direct the separation of the companies in reference to the manufacture of electricity.

The attempted order of the commission, it is asserted, violates the act of Congress passed in 1902 and known as the consolidation act, which permits the two companies to co-operate. Under the act the companies are to be merged into one company, the Potomac Electric Power Company, to the amount of $7,000,000. These bonds are held by the public and the consolidation of the companies is stated, was that the power company should erect a suitable power station from which the railroad company would be supplied with needed power.

Declared a Public Benefit. The joint manufacture of electricity is an economy, the companies declare, and benefits the public as well as the companies in interest. They say it prevents waste and extravagance. The maximum of current is used by the railway company during the day, it is explained, while the demand of the public is met by the power plant. It is asserted, and it is justified in joining in the manufacture of electricity, and should not be required to desist from the conduct of the joint business, especially when the combination was authorized by Congress.

Sunday's program at Randall's Theatre will have as its main attraction Francis X. Bushman, in the Broadway production, "A Letter From Home." Monday and Tuesday the feature will be Mary Pickford in "The Old Actor," supplemented by a Vitaphone film, "Kiddie Sister," and "The Identification." A Kalem, Wednesday and Thursday, "One Wonderful Night," featuring Francis X. Bushman, with "The Lure of the Carwheels," a Lubin film, and "Something to Adore," an Edison, Friday, "When Women Love," followed by "Private Bunny," featuring John Bunny, and for the week-end feature, "The Mystery of the Green Park," a detective play written after the novel by Arnold Golovin. Prof. Green's orchestra will play suitable music.

Colonial Beach. Colonial Beach, which is now at its height, has many extra features to attract the local public and maintain its title of Washington's Atlantic City. One of the noticeable improvements that has been completed is the enlargement of the bathhouses to accommodate the large crowds of excursionists that enjoy salt-water bathing. The fishing and crabbing are excellent, and boating and sailing seem more popular this season than ever, besides dancing in the pavilion, situated directly over the water's edge, attracts many.

The St. Johns leaves 7th street wharf every morning, except Monday, at 9 o'clock, with a special week-end trip Saturday at 2:30 p.m. The return is made from Colonial Beach Sunday at 11 o'clock, arriving in Washington about 11 o'clock.

END INDUSTRIAL WARS

Such Is the Hope Avowed by Head of United States Commission.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Continuation of statements of the fundamental differences between capital and labor was heard here today by the United States industrial relations commission. John M. Glenn, secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association; Victor A. Olander, secretary of the Lake Seamen's Union; the heads of two of the largest employing corporations in the Chicago district and several social settlement workers were on the list of witnesses for today.

From them the commission hoped to obtain new light on the testimony developed yesterday in which Charles M. Pilsbury, a factory owner, declared for open-shop principles, while John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, asserted that the differences were based on the employer's resentment of what Walker called "the double standard" of pay, namely, a living wage for the worker and wealth, if possible, for the employer.

The commission seeks to discover a plan for real cooperation, said Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City, its head, today. "Some basis may be found for that and then industrial warfare will end."

GRAND JURY TO HEAR OF VICE DISTRICT PLOT

State's Attorney in Chicago Has Shooting Affray Evidence Ready to Present.

CHICAGO, July 22.—All the evidence gathered by the state's attorney in connection with the shooting Thursday night of four policemen in the vice district is ready to be submitted to the grand jury. Feeling his way into the tangle of influences in the vice district, Maclay Hoyne, state's attorney, laid his hands on Rocco Venella, or Robert Vanella, as he was known in Moirana, alleged imported gunman, wounded in the foot Thursday night.

Leader in the Plot. Hoyne declared Vanella was a leader in a plot to slug and maim the detectives of the month's round and that the detectives were saved only by being involved in a sudden shooting affray with two other policemen who took them for gunmen.

In spite of lack of confirmation from New York of Vanella's alleged eastern affiliations with New York gunmen, Hoyne declared that his information about the man was correct. "Big Jim" Colosimo, cafe proprietor in the vice district, arrested yesterday for obstructing justice, was free today in $5,000 bond, and was to be questioned before the grand jury.

Convicted of Murder.

BILLINGS, Mont., July 22.—Robert Vanella, reported under surveillance in Chicago in connection with the recent shooting there in the segregated district, was found guilty of murder in the second degree in this city January 25, 1908, for the killing of Rafael Arceles. He was sentenced to fifty years in the penitentiary.

Joe Faza, who was one of the principal witnesses against Vanella, was threatened with death during the trial and two months later was mysteriously murdered at Taft, Mont. Another state witness, Vincent Langens, disappeared shortly afterward. As a result of a campaign begun by the prisoner's mother in New York city, Vanella was released on parole by the state board of pardons last spring.

PARK SLEEPER IS ROBBED.

Stanley Kozek Loses $60 While Napping Outdoors to Save Money.

When Stanley Kozek, a railroad laborer looking for employment, reached this city three days ago with more than $80 in his pockets, he found the nights warm and sleeping in the parks comfortable. Not only did he enjoy sleeping in the parks, he told the police, but he sought to save money he otherwise would have spent for lodgings.

Kozek was sleeping soundly in the Capitol grounds yesterday morning about 4 o'clock, he stated, when he was awakened by something touching him. Stanley saw two young colored men hurrying away. Putting his hand in his pocket, he found his $60 had vanished. Stanley went to the sixth precinct police station, told of his loss and furnished descriptions of the colored men.
